

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, some important points are outlined. First, the conclusion contains a summary of the research findings related to the formulation of the problems and the objectives of the research. Second, the implication confers what can be implied from the conclusion. The last is suggestions which are meant to other researcher who will conduct similar research.

5.1 Conclusions

Based on the data presentation and discussions related to the address terms of West Manggarai Dialect of Manggarai Language Spoken in Komodo Subdistrict, three main conclusions can be drawn. The first conclusion is concerned with the types of address terms. The second conclusion is related to the social factors and the last is the functions.

1. There are three types of address terms used in West Manggarai Dialect of Manggarai Language spoken Komodo Subdistrict. They are title, pet name, and kinship term.
2. In this research, the social factors are divided into seven. They are particular occasion, rank of other/social status, age, family relationship, gender, transactional status, and degree of intimacy
3. Related to the third objective, there are three functions of address terms. They are to show intimacy, power differential, and respect.

5.2 Suggestion

Based on the result of the data analysis, the writer gives some suggestions which are expected to be useful, as follows:

1. To Other Researcher

The finding on the use of address terms in this research, especially in the types, functions, and social factors of address terms are influenced by context of communication. For example, where the conversation takes place or to whom a speaker talks to. Place or circumstance can greatly influence the use of certain types of address term. A formal occasion usually also requires formal language during conversation.

2. The people of Komodo Subdistrict

People of Komodo Subdistrict are suggested to keep speaking their language and its terms of address to keep better social relationship in daily communication.
